

Maggie Hall

MSW, RSW, LL.M, AccFM(OAFM), CPMed

Maggie Hall has been working as a family mediator since 1986. Maggie worked as a court mediator for 14 years. Since 1990 she has been the Director of The Mediation Centre and has during that period provided court connected Mediation and Information Services to a number of different courts in Southern Ontario. Since 2011 Maggie has been the Co-Director of Mediation North which provides Mediation and Information Services to more than 20 court locations in northern Ontario.

Maggie began a pilot project in child protection mediation in 2002 and was a co-author and inaugural instructor of the mandatory child protection mediation training in Ontario. She has trained child protection mediators across the province and ran a training course for child protection mediation instructors. Maggie has presented at many Children's Aid Societies across the province.

Maggie is committed to family driven solutions and believes that the best solution to family challenges is often one developed by the family.
