

Jessica Cowling

MSW, RSW, Family Group Conferencing Coordinator, New Ways for Families Coach

I have worked with children and families in a variety of capacities in the last 10 years. Working with families involved in the child welfare system, children in care, and kinship families has provided me with numerous opportunities to see families become empowered to make good decisions for their children. I feel honoured to work with families and help them use the opportunity to determine their own outcomes through Family Group Conferencing.
